

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, March 18. 1707.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Mar. 22.
Turin, March 5.

THE 27th of last Month 2 Companies of Gunners and Bombardiers march'd from hence for Alexandria, which Place our Duke has resolv'd to provide for Defence, and to that End has sent a Commissary to take an Account of what Stores are left in the Magazines, that they may be supplied with what is wanting to fill them. Signior Castelli, a General in the Service of the Venetians, is arriv'd here, and has frequent Conferences with his Royal Highness; but 'tis not known on what Commission he is come from the Republick. Cannon, Mortars, Bombs, and all sorts of Ammunition, are embarking on the Po, to be employ'd in attacking Valenza after the Castle of Milan is taken. 'Tis advis'd from Savoy, that the French give out they shall shortly retire from thence and march to Catalonia. The Marquis de Trivie is appointed by our Duke to go as his Ambassador to King Charles III: He will take with him Signior Emanuelli a very able Ingenier.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Mar. 22.
Turin, Mar. 5. The Marshal de Tesse, who is arriv'd at Grenoble, is to go to Suza, where the Enemy are working on Intrenchments: They will form 3 Bodies of Forces; one towards the Valley of Aoste, another about Suza, and the other in Provence. The Conferences for settling an Exchange of Prisoners are not yet begun, some Persons being first expected to assist at them on the Part of Prince Eugene.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated March 22.
Haguenau, March 11. Pioneers daily pass this Way towards Croon-Weissenburg, to reinforce those employ'd on the Line between that Place and Lauterburg. By Order from the Court, all the Peasants are to bring their Forrage into the Places of Strength. 5 Battallions of our Garrison, which march'd with a good Number of Waggons loaded with Ammunition for Fort-Louis, return'd hither Yesterday, the Enemy having frustrated their Design by drawing together some Troops to intercept them. 'Tis now believ'd, that the Campaign will not be open'd in these Parts till the Middle of next Month, and that we shall only act defensively, because they write from Strasburg that 18 Squadrons and 24 Battallions are to march from Alsace through the Country of Luxemburg to the Netherlands, to reinforce the Duke of Vendome's Army.

Spires, Mar. 12. The Advices from Alsace are, that the French Troops, which for some Days made several Motions and seem'd to have a Design to pass the Rhine, are retir'd to their former Quarters. The Margrave of Bareith has posted our Troops so conveniently, that we are out of all Fear of being fallen upon by the Enemy: On the contrary, 'tis talk'd, that the first fair Weather our Troops will pass the Rhine near Philipsburg, to attack the Enemy's Lines at Lauterburg.

From the Paris Gazette, dated March 19.

Paris, Mar. 19. Letters from Toulon of the 1st of this Month advise, that a Ship was arriv'd there from Cagliari, having on board several Prisoners of State sent by the Marquis de Valero Viceroy of Sardinia. They stand accus'd, and even convicted, of forming a Conspiracy to assassinate the Viceroy and then to raise the People by Means of certain seditious Persons: They had engag'd the Captains of 2 Galleys of Sardinia in their Design, but those Captains have been punish'd, and others put into their Rooms: So that at present all is quiet in that Kingdom. They had Advice at Toulon from Algiers, that the Corsairs of that Place have 12 Ships at Sea, and that they had taken 3 Prizes, a Dutch Ship, a Venetian, and a Hamburgher.

A Letter from the King of France to the Pope.

Most holy Father,

THE constant Endeavours of your Holiness to procure Peace to Europe, are always equally acceptable to us. We have nothing more at Heart than to second your Instances, and are not unwilling on our Part to make any Steps towards the rendering them successfull. As we did what we could that the War might not be beginn'd, so we shall continue to seek all Occasions to end it by the most speedy and most effectual Means. Your Beatitude has been inform'd that we have several Times already made Advances to attain so good an End. 'Tis owing to the Unhappyness of these Times, that Catholick Princes withheld by Fear of displeasing their Allies, still refuse to hearken to the holy Exhortations of the Vicar of Jesus Christ. When we referr'd to the Arbitration of your Holiness to adjust the Rights of the Emperour, and to award him a Compensation out of the Dominions of the Monarchy of Spain, the Ministers of your Beatitude were commission'd to propose it to that Prince. With what Haughtiness did he reject the Proposition? He made exorbitant Demands, peremptorily requiring our Grandson to be recall'd. Who could believe most holy Father that so arrogant an Answer would have been return'd, in Scorn of your Ministry and our Propensity to Peace? For that Conjunction, far from being favourable to the House of Austria, carried a menacing Aspect towards it from the Superiority of our Forces and the Victory of Cassano. But God in whose Hand are all Events, chang'd the Condition of our Affairs. The Care we applied to the repairing our Losses, did not exclude the Thoughts of Peace which we had entertain'd even in the Time of our greatest Prosperity. We renew'd our Offers to Holland of a Barriere for their State, and Security for the Freedom of their Commerce; reserving to ourselves the treating of a Compensation for the Emperour. Those Propositions so reasonable, were likewise eluded by the Intrigues of the Party that oppos'd the Advancement of our Grandson. Thereupon we turn'd our whole Care to augment the Preparations for carrying on a War, which had been violently and unjustly declar'd against us. But because it is of Importance to us to have Regard to the holy Exhortations of your Beatitude, and to take away all Pretext from our Enemies of laying to our Charge the Effusion of so much Christian Blood as has already been and is about to be shed, we will at your Holiness's Desire open to you our Intentions concerning Peace.

We declare then to your Beatitude, that the King our Grandson has entrusted us with full Power to make over to the Archduke Part of the Dominions which compose the Monarchy of Spain. The Catholick King has the Hearts of all true Spaniards; he is content to reign over them. It lies therefore upon the Emperour alone to explain himself: It depends wholly upon that Prince to have the Milanese, Naples, Sicily and the other Islands of the Mediterranean belonging to Spain, reunited for ever to his Family. A Barriere for the Republick of the united Provinces will be agreed without Difficulty. And thus the two Pretences for the War being remov'd, it will be easy easy to put an End to the Calamities with which Europe has so long been oppress'd. We beseech God to preserve your Holiness many Years in the Government of his Church.

Versailles, Feb.

15. 1707.

Sign'd,
Your devout Son
the King of France and Navarre.
